Experience a home like no other. This magnificent house by UKZ Architects introduced Modernism to North Caldwell, a suburb of New Jersey 19 miles from New York City. This one of a kind, award winning residence is a work of art. The home is comprised of two primary elements: two right angle L-shaped walls that intersect and provide context for the juxtaposition of inside and out. Nature is brought in with the L-shaped white concrete wall, beginning in the garden and adorned with a wisteria vine. The concrete wall continues from the patio and runs visibly through the home forming the rear wall of the glass-faced Living Room. The home itself is the intersecting L-shape, lined with custom German windows that allow natural light, airflow, and egress to the rear garden or patio. The beautiful Kitchen has recently been updated with new white cabinets, granite counter tops, glass tile backsplash, and reverse-osmosis water filtration. It hosts stainless steel appliances, including a four-burner Wolf stove, Miele dishwasher, and Subzero refrigerator-freezer. The gracious Master Suite features five closets and a new white marble Master Bath, which includes two separate sinks and vanity spaces, custom cabinetry, and tall frosted glass pocket doors. The entire home boasts 10 foot and 12 foot ceilings. Convenient to shopping, restaurants, museums, libraries, theaters, and more; close to Montclair as well as train and bus transportation to New York City. Experience living in modern art!
